PREPARE!

Activity in many new fields marks the advance of the United States toward national security. Our factories turning out war munitions, patriotic women training for service and our Navy developing into a formidable fighting force.